Indigenous Pink Day is an annual breast cancer awareness campaign held every October.

Join us Oct. 18 for Indigenous Pink Day

Indigenous Pink Day is a national breast cancer awareness campaign for American Indians/Alaska Natives. The American Indian Cancer Foundation asks Indigenous people of all ages to wear pink and share photos on social media using the hashtag #IndigenousPink to spread breast cancer awareness.

Breast cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death and the most common cancer found in American Indian/Alaska Native women.

The goal of Indigenous Pink Day is to educate all Indigenous people on the importance of early detection and remind men and women to keep up to date on their screenings.

This is a national awareness campaign, so you can participate from wherever you are!

How to celebrate with us:

► Wear Pink

Wear pink to honor breast cancer warriors and survivors.

► Share

Share a picture of yourself on social media wearing pink using #IndigenousPink. Tell your friends and family about Indigenous Pink Day and ask them to wear pink. Encourage your organization or business to wear pink.

► Get Screened

Talk to your healthcare provider for advice and information on breast cancer screenings.
