

Indigenous

PINK

Photo Contest

Thursday, Oct. 29, 2020

American Indian Cancer Foundation wants to bring awareness to Breast Cancer in Indigenous Communities by having everyone collect something pink from the Earth and share their photo in honor of all our Indigenous Breast Cancer Survivors and those who have passed fighting the battle.

- ▶ Nimkee Memorial Wellness Center – Women’s Health Program will be having a drawing for anyone who participates in this event.
- ▶ Take a photo of you being active outdoors with an indigenous pink item of choice and submit a photo to be entered into the drawing.

Submit photos now until Wednesday, Oct. 28 at Midnight

- By submitting photo you are given consent for your image to be shared community wide
- When submitting photo; please give the best form of contact for each individual in photo
- If submitting a group photo please list all names of individuals in photo

Submit photos to:

- jwinchel@sagchip.org
- samachippeway@sagchip.org

Nimkee
Memorial Wellness Center

**Lanyard was made and donated by Alice Jo Ricketts*

Saginaw Chippewa Indian Tribe of Michigan
“Working Together for Our Future”

7500 Soaring Eagle Blvd.
Mount Pleasant, MI 48858
989-775-4000
www.sagchip.org