Gma-mii-kwen-min (I am proud of you)

Lilacs

We are a third of the way into the year already. How have things been going since the New Year? I hope all has been well and I hope that you are still completing all of your goals.

Even if you don't feel accomplished right now, remember to be grateful for the little things. Be grateful you have a roof over your head, the kids are healthy, you have a job, and/or that you are simply alive and breathing today. I have been writing in a gratitude journal daily and I found it very helpful turning my attitude around.

I recommend to try giving someone a compliment, do something nice for someone else, or do more self-care. Simply taking a few minutes to yourself a day can help so much. Especially as a parent. Don't feel guilty doing stuff for YOU. Remember the vibrant and outgoing person you were before kids and find that person again. Not saying you aren't vibrant and outgoing now, but I'm sure a part of us feels rundown from the day to day hustle and bustle of life now.

Speak life into yourself, you are a special spiritual being. You are capable of so many things, including to love and be loved, protecting the space around you, setting firm boundaries, and gaining knowledge to take you further than you ever expected. Let's make this day, this month, this year a wonderful one. I am rooting for you.

How do I locate and turn off a main water shut-off valve?

- Your shut-off valve should be located in the utility closet of your home. Where the water heater and furnace is located.
- It will either have a handle or a round-like knob as shown in the picture above.
- (As the picture shown) Turn the knob/lever to the right to shut-off the water during emergencies.
- Please call the Emergency Housing number at (989) 621-2669

When should I turn off my water valve?

1. Suspect there is a water leak in your property.
2. Observe signs of water pooling in your yard.
3. See water dripping out from under your kitchen sink.
4. Find water gushing uncontrollably through your house.
