Boozhoo!

I hope everyone has had a momentous year so far. We are moving into spring cleaning and I am sure you have heard the motto "April showers bring May flowers". This is the perfect time to clean out the old and bring in the new. Let's open the windows up, get some fresh air, turn the music up (not enough to disturb your neighbors though :P), go for a stroll down to the park, and start a garden. These are all fantastic ideas to consider this month while we shake those winter blues. I know personally, I was feeling the emotions of having too many dark, cold, winter days! It is time to get those positive vibes back up, spread happiness, start a new workout routine, begin a gratitude journal, say your affirmations, and speak things into existence! I am telling you this stuff works. The more you speak about it, the more you will start to believe the things you talk about. So always speak highly of yourself and others. You attract what you put out into the World, so make sure it is something worth getting back. Be on the lookout for the spring cleaning event coming up in the near future! You will not want to miss out.
